Tools and Wisdom for Personal and Professional Growth

5th Annual Emotional Intelligence Conference, Holland, June 2005
Leading with Emotional Intelligence

NexusEQ Conference At A Glance

Who: Change agents from business, education, psychology, and health. Leaders, Educators, Consultants, Trainers, Researchers.

What: Emotional intelligence conference shares solutions to pressing problems in a changing world.

Around the world there is a groundswell recognizing the power and importance of emotional intelligence – the skills and understandings that govern our relationships with ourselves and others. These critical skills increase problem-solving, creativity, joy, communication, motivation, and purpose – and reduce violence, apathy, and isolation.

Where: Egmond aan Zee, Holland (outside of Amsterdam, near the North Sea).

When: June 12-14, 2005

Why: The old solutions are not working. People are overwhelmed, stressed out, and not keeping up with the challenges they face.

NexusEQ provides access to the thought leaders and top experts; shares best practices and real-world examples; demonstrates EQ in the way it operates; and shares tools and wisdom for making the world better.

Nexus presenters are the renown researchers, the best respected authors, and represent the most significant emotional intelligence educational organizations in the field.
